

GTG Driver Training Learner Journey

Stage 1

Now that you have booked and confirmed your chosen driver training package, your journey has started!

We will now send your personal login details so you can access your study materials, and we'll also book you in for your medical at your chosen GTG centre.

You can begin to study for your theory tests from today!

Stage 2

You will attend GTG for your medical and provisional entitlement application, and we will send your licence to the DVLA who will process your application and grant provisional entitlement for the category of vehicle you have chosen.

Stage 3

You will receive your licence back from the DVLA, and you should now have provisional entitlement added to your digital licence for the category of vehicle you wish to train in.

This means that you can now book your theory tests!

Stage 4

You have been studying for your theory tests and now you are ready to book the tests.

Your GTG training advisor will arrange this with you, and we will book your theory tests at your preferred DVLA theory test centre.

Stage 5

You have passed your theory tests and you are now ready to attend GTG for your practical driver training!

As soon as you receive your results confirming that you have passed the theory tests, just let your training advisor know and they will find available dates with you to book you in for your practical training and test at your chosen GTG training centre.

Stage 6

You attend GTG for your practical driver training course and test.

If you have booked a package that includes CPC Module 4, you will also receive your Module 4 training while at the centre.

Please note, this timeline may differ on a case-by-case basis.
